To Whom It May Concern:

I wish to register my strong opposition to the decision by Secretary Sibelius to mandate insurance coverage without co-pay of all contraceptive and sterilization procedures.

This is a clear violation of a person's right of conscience because of course the cost for this will be passed through to all premium payers, whether or not an individual's conscience and moral compass approves of such actions.

Furthermore, the regulation so limits conscience protections even for religious and other private organizations and businesses as to make the exception non-existent. I strongly urge that conscience protections be strengthened and expanded.

Our Constitution guarantees religious freedom to the individual. Such a regulation makes a mockery of this. Please repeal it.

Sincerely,
Mary Carol Powers
